Faraday Factory Japan has been offering market-leading high temperature superconductor products since its start in 2011.

Faraday Factory Japan has been offering market-leading high temperature superconductor products since its start in 2011.

We develop unique approach based on IBAD and PLD deposition methods. FaradayFactoryJapan LLC is a company that researches, manufactures and sells high-temperature superconducting wires in Sagami-hara City, Zama City, Kanagawa Prefecture. As a manufacturer that develops superconductivity required for.

Faraday Factory, the world's largest manufacturer of high-temperature superconductors, announces achievement of 5,000 km cumulative deliveries to disruptive fusion projects worldwide TOKYO, Sept. 17, 2024 /PRNewswire/ -- Faraday Factory Japan LLC has passed a milestone of 5,000 km, or 1.

The first break through in the field of high-temperature superconductivity was made in the year 1986, when a Swiss physicist Alexander Muller and his West German associate Georg Bednorz discovered the effect of superconductivity in the ceramic materials at the temperature which was considerably.

Faraday Factory Japan specializes in the production of high-temperature superconductor (HTS) wire. They are wholly owned by Faraday 1867.
