Overview

---

What is a base X shelter?

Base-X shelters support Base Camp, Command and Control (C2), Aircraft and Vehicle Maintenance, Medical, Chemical/Biological and Decontamination, and Industrial applications. Available in the 100, 200, 300, 500, or Dome model series, all sizes of HDT's Base-X shelters offer the same level of interconnectivity, durability, and ease of deployment.

What types of military shelters are available?

Available in tactical shelters ranging from 100 to 1000 square meters. Long-term accommodation systems engineered as military base camp tents, featuring improved insulation and privacy partitions for troop comfort. Lightweight tactical military shelters for special operations.

What is a base X® articulating frame shelter?

HDT's Base-X® articulating frame shelters range in size from personal tents to Corps-level complexes. Base-X shelters support Base Camp, Command and Control (C2), Aircraft and Vehicle Maintenance, Medical, Chemical/Biological and Decontamination, and Industrial applications.

What makes the Q Series military shelters durable?

Due to its Quonset shape, the Q Series of military shelters are durable and highly resistant to rain and snow. If you know you need an entire camp of portable military shelters, you can look through our Military Shelter Packages.
