Our pick for the best UPS overall goes to the APC BR1500G Backup Battery. At 1500VA/865W, it can power most devices, including computers, external hard drives, and wireless routers, from a few minutes to several hours, depending on the total connected load.

An uninterruptible power supply (UPS) helps prevent sudden shutdowns, data loss, and hardware damage by providing backup power when your main electricity fails. For home users, a UPS can protect desktop PCs, gaming consoles, and smart home devices from unexpected power cuts. In business settings,

The CyberPower LE1000DG is the best UPS for people who want to back up a few small electronics — such as a modem, router, PC, external hard drive, or game server — during a blackout lasting up to three hours. It offers many of the same premium features found in pricier models, including battery.

The best UPS (uninterruptible power supply) devices on this page are important purchases for any business - or home user - who needs electronic devices such as PCs and servers that have constant power connections 24 hours a day, seven days a week. If there's a power cut, even a very brief one, then.

We've reviewed our recommendations and are confident these are still the best UPS devices you can buy. Many smart devices have built-in battery packs, with modern laptops packing enough cells to last a whole day. However, typical desktop computers, routers, and similar devices still need to be.

Excellent power output for its size, protecting several electronics at once during outages, with an intuitive interface for pinpoint control. With its dedicated battery backup configuration, this modest-looking UPS delivers plenty of power for multiple electronics. A robust UPS that conditions.

We've done some digging into the top picks, backed by data and expert reviews, to
